

Agile Darter

These tiny creatures are very delicate - their homes are constantly under threat from pollution and changes in the environment

- Nymphs (babies) nearly always have three tails,
- Agile darters typically feed on plants and are found in fresh water in either rivers or lakes,
- They are torpedo- shaped which makes them swim really fast,
- After about one year the nymphs are ready to hatch into Mayflies.

