

Stoneclingers

These tiny creatures are very delicate - their homes are constantly under threat from pollution and changes in the environment

- They live on the surfaces of stones eating plants,
- They swim quickly by wriggling their body up and down,
- Stoneclinger nymphs (babies) hatch into Mayflies.